HERALDRY

Heraldry is defined as the art or science of blazoning or describing in appropriate technical terms coats of arms and other heraldic and armorial insignia. The system is of very ancient origin. We can trace it back to the Jewish tribes; and subsequently we find it in a more elaborate form in the leading families of Greece and Rome, who bore distinguishing symbols, illustrative of, or pertaining to, deeds of valor or merit performed by their ancestors.

In its modern sense, however, the heraldic art dates from the time of the Crusades, and was reduced to its present perfect system by the French; and it was not until that period that the crest or cognizance was generally adopted. The crest is a device worn on top of the shield, usually placed on a wreath, and was borne by knights and other personages of rank, when clad in armor, to distinguish them in battle, and as a mark for their followers and supporters. At first these badges were worn on the helmet, to render them more plainly visible, or on the arm, but in later times were transferred to the shield or armor. Many families have preserved their mottoes, or watch-words, which usually represent some characteristic of the family, or sometimes the war cry of the clan. Others never adopted a motto, just as many never adopted a crest.

An erroneous idea is entertained by some that heraldic symbols denote an aristocratic or exclusive class and is undemocratic in its origin and permanency. On the contrary, these badges of distinction were the reward of personal merit, and could be secured by the humblest as well as the highest. They are today the testimonials and warrants of bravery, heroism, and meritorious deeds of our ancestors; and they appeal to the pride of the intelligent and enlightened descendants of these distinguished families today, as the valiant and self-sacrificing acts of contemporary persons would to their posterity.

BACKGROUND HISTORY - Germany 1830 - 1880

In the 1830's Germany was not unified. It comprised of several states including Prussia and Austria. In 1848 the Frankfurt Assembly attempted to bring a unified German State into being. Their desires were a liberal, constitutional state, a people's government assuring civil rights, free elections and open debate. However they had no real political or military power to support their goals as did America in 1776, and their efforts failed.

Disappointed many Germans migrated to the United States and were known as the "forty-eighters". Some good did come out of the assembly's efforts. Peasants now for the first time were free to move, find new jobs, receive and spend money and move to the U.S.

In the 1860's Bismarck ruled Germany and unified it. Although Bismarck claimed to have a rule for the people, he mandated outrageous taxes and although the German people were not required to pay by law, many of them opted to pay out of fear. This probably was the most likely reason for the large influx of German immigrants to the U.S. at this time.

KRODEL, CHRISTOPHER -

Born in Germany in 1868. His arrival in America is unknown, however his family origination is from Selb Germany near the Checkoslovakian border. He primarily worked in area mills as a weaver and later as a weaver supervisor. He had a large muscular build standing 6'-6" and weighing some 250 pounds. Christopher married Margaret Kispert, date unknown, who was also born in Germany. Their six children include August, Edward (Percy), Clara, Johanna (Jenny), Priscilla, and Sophie.

The Baltic mill, where Christopher once worked, burned down putting many area mill employees out of work. The fire started Oct. 18, 1887 at 2:45 a.m.. Christopher moved to Dodgeville Mass. (just outside Attleboro) some time after the fire as did many other area mill workers. Dodgeville had a large pool of available mill work. It was here in Dodgeville that his son August Heinrich was born on Dec. 8 1888. Sometime later Chris moved back to Baltic and had a house built on Rt. 97, near Lillibridge road (barrel curve).

The gay 20's were no so gay for Chrisopher and Margaret as they lost 2 daughters (Johanna and Priscilla) within seven months of each other both due to ruptured appendixes. Christopher shortly after also contracted appendicitis, however he luckily lived through it. At the age of 69, surviving several of his children, Christopher died in 1937 of gangreen due to an injury in his toe. He is buried in Lovett cemetary in Versailles.

After Christopher's death, Margaret moved to Boswell Avenue in Norwich with her daughter Sophie Decelle, where she died in 1950.

KRODEL, AUGUST HEINRICH -

Born in Dodgeville Massachusetts. Like his father Christopher, he worked primarily in area mills. At one time he worked as a mule spinner (putting thread on bobbins) at Ponemah Mills. August was confirmed in the Franklin St. Lutheran church in Norwich on April 5, 1903 at the age of 17. Rev. A. H. Werth was the presiding pastor. August married miss Emma Bradlaw in Norwich, Ct. on Nov. 12, 1908, at the age of 20. Maid of honor at the ceremony Emma's sister Anna Bradlaw. August's best man was his brother Edward (Percy) Krodel.

August and Emma had six children, Edna, Fidelis, Raymond, Mae, Robert and Constance. August's family moved quite often into various mill houses in Taftville. Some of the addresses include 33 1/2 South B. St., 7 So. 3rd Ave., 14 North B. St. where August died April 16, 1930 of kidney failure. They then moved to 3 North 3rd where Emma died May 5, 1942 of a cerebral hemorrhage at the age of 52.

KRODEL, ANNA -

Anna married Joseph Gadle and had two children, Donald and Evalyn. Anna died in 1975 and is buried in Maplewood cemetery along with her husband Joseph.

KRODEL, EDWARD (PERCY) -

Edward married miss Victoria Privy and worked in area mills as a machinist. Good mill machinists were in high demand at this time since machine parts were unable to be ordered from the machines' manufacturer. As a result all broken machine parts had to be hand crafted at the mill.

Edward and Victoria had seven children, Blanche, Francise, Edward, Agnes, James, Joseph, and Helene. Edward lived much of his life on Providence St. in Taftville, later moving to Terrace Ave. where he passed away. He is buried in the Maplewood cemetery in Norwich with his wife Victoria.

KRODEL, CLARA -

Clara married James Finnigan and both are buried in New London. James worked for the New Haven railroad all his life out of New London.

11

KRODEL, JOHANNA (JENNY) -

Born in 1902, Jenny died in 1924 at the age of 22 due to a ruptured appendix at a Willimantic hospital. When Jenny contracted her appedicitis, she spceifically avoided Backus Hospital where her sister Priscilla had died. She traveled alone by trolly to the Willimantic Hospital which in those days was not an easy trip. Jenny is buried in the Lovett cemetary in Versailles.

KRODEL, PRISCILLA -

Priscilla born in 1907 died in 1923 at the age of 16 due to a ruptrued appendix at the Backus hospital in Norwich. Dr. Sussler (more or less the family doctor) diagnosed that Priscilla's appendix ruptured before going to the hospital. While at the hospital Priscilla's sister Anna who was a nurse cared for her. She is buried in the Lovett cemetary in Versailles.

KRODEL, SOPHIE -

Sophie married Harold DeCelle and lived on upper Boswell Ave. in Norwich. She took in her mother Margaret after her father Christopher passed away. (Evalyn Gadle also cared for Margaret for a period of time). Margaret lived with Sophie and Harold for thirteen years. Any wealth which Christopher and Margaret had accumulated went to the DcCelles when Margaret passed away. Sophie died in 1957 and was originally buried in the family plot in Versailles. Shortly thereafter Harlod moved Sophie to Maplewood cemetary for reasons unknown.

KRODEL, EDNA -

Born May 27, 1909 at 37 Brook St. in Norwich. Much of Edna's early life involved mill work at Ponemah Mills in Taftville. She was the first female supervisor appointed at Ponemah and received a great deal of worker resentment. A female in this position at this time was unheard of.
